

Take Charge! Challenge 2011

Take Charge! Challenge ($940,000)

The Kansas Energy Office contracted with the Climate and Energy Project (CEP) to implement Round Two of the Take Charge! Challenge, a friendly competition to save energy, involving 16 communities in 4 different regions of the state. Cities will compete for the greatest energy savings within their region; the KEO will provide up to $100,000 for an energy efficiency or renewable energy project as an award for the winning community in each region.
